POPE: THE MEANING OF CHARITY

Vatican News

Pope Francis invited participants at the Caritas Internationalis General Assembly in Rome to reflect on three key concepts of charity, integral development and communion.

More than 300 delegates of Caritas Internationalis Member Organisations met recently in Rome for their 21st General Assembly, on the theme 'One human family, one common home'. The meeting takes place every four years to review the progress and policies of the Caritas Confederation, and to define a strategic framework that will carry it forward over the next four years.

When he received the delegates in the Vatican, Pope Francis began by reaffirming how charity is not just "an offering we make in order to keep our conscience quiet". Rather, "charity has its origin and its essence in God himself", he said. "If we considered charity a service, the Church would become a humanitarian agency and the service of charity would become her 'logistics department'".

That is why the service of charity "must choose the logic of integral development as an antidote to the throwaway culture of indifference", he continued. "The poor are above all persons, and their faces conceal that of Christ himself". The Pope stressed how "the worst discrimination from which the poor suffer is lack of spiritual attention". "They need God", he said, "and we cannot fail to offer them His friendship, His blessing, His Word".

Finally, "it is communion in Christ and in the Church that animates, accompanies and sustains the service of charity", said the Pope. "In this way, the diakonia of charity becomes a visible instrument of communion ... which is central in the Church and defines its essence".

Pope Francis then offered other definitions of what charity is – and is not. "You cannot live charity without having interpersonal relationships with the poor", he said, adding how charity must involve the heart, the soul and our whole being. The Pope warned against living a "hypocritical or deceptive charity", associating charitable work with philanthropy, efficiency, or obsessive organisation. Charity is the most "coveted of the virtues to which we can aspire in order to imitate God", he said. "Charity", said Pope Francis, "is not a sedative for our restless conscience". It is also not a business. The Pope spoke of those who "talk a lot about charity but live in luxury", organising meetings on charity and "wasting so much money". "Charity is not an idea or a pious feeling", he concluded, "but an experiential encounter with Christ", where we meet Him in the poor.

ST JOSEPH'S PARISH VISITING SPEAKER PROGRAM

Upper Room, Wednesday 3 & Thursday 4 July

As part of the Parish's commitment to ongoing opportunities for listening and dialogue as we journey towards the Plenary 2020, and in partnership with the Archdiocese of Perth, we have invited Daniel Ang (member of the Plenary Council 2020 Executive, and Director of Parish 2020, Archdiocese of Sydney) to facilitate two opportunities within our Parish to further our conversations about how we as a local church may be signposts of renewal and life.

Session 1: Principles of Our Evangelising Mission

6-7.30pm, Wednesday 3 July

This session will explore the way in which a parish may become more fully alive and a Church for all people by considering principles or essential foundations central to an evangelising parish. It will address the subject of pre-evangelisation, how we may proclaim the good news, the personal nature of faith's reception and the cultivation of a deeper Christian identity both within and beyond the parish.

Please visit the Parish website for more information. RSVP to enquiries@stjosephssubiaco.org.au or call 9381 0400.

Session 2: Making Disciples in the Australian Parish

9.45-11.15am, Thursday 4 July

This session will consider the pastoral reality and opportunities for the Church in Australia, noting the local parish as indispensable to our spiritual identity as Church. This session will name the 'fruit' of evangelising parishes as discipleship and recognise the complexity of people we encounter in ministry today. It will propose that a renewed vision for making disciples, and a preference for processes over programs, are integral to the movement from maintenance to mission.
