ARCHBISHOP COSTELLOE'S LENTEN MESSAGE (Part Four)

I am also asking that every parish and every other Catholic community in the archdiocese set aside Sunday 11 March, the Fourth Sunday of Lent, as a further day of special remembrance and prayer in our archdiocese for all the victims and survivors of sexual abuse in the Church. The Gospel speaks of those who "though the light has come into the world ... have shown they prefer darkness to light because their deeds were evil" (John 3:19). To our shame we can see the story of the Church in Australia in regard to the sexual abuse of children and young people mirrored in these words. On this Fourth Sunday of Lent when the readings will prompt us to reflect on how far some members of our Church have strayed from the path of fidelity we should pray with great earnestness and sincerity for those who have suffered so much because of this infidelity. I sincerely hope that every parish and every other Catholic community which gathers for Mass on this Fourth Sunday of Lent will pray very explicitly and publicly for all the victims and survivors of this terrible assault on their human dignity. And of course, unless our prayer is accompanied by practical action to assist those who have suffered and to ensure that no one in the future suffers in the same way, we will be deserving of the scathing words of Jesus addresses to some of the Scribes and Pharisees: You are like whitewashed tombs which outwardly appear beautiful but within are full of dead men's bones and all uncleanness (Matthew 23:27).

The sexual abuse of children and young people has tragically brought great darkness to many people's lives and for some has destroyed their ability to live life with any joy, hope and companionship. While we must, and will, do everything we can to repair the damage which has been caused, we must also recognise that ultimately it is God who is the healer. This is why prayer and action must go hand in hand as we seek to respond as the Lord expects us to. We do need God to create new hearts in us. We do need to acknowledge our sins and the weakness and frailty which can blight our lives and the lives of others. We do need to repent and believe, really believe, in the gospel.

May Lent be a time of healing and hope for us all – as individuals, as families, as local faith communities and as the Church.
