BE A GOOD EGG AND BUY SLAVERY-FREE CHOCOLATE THIS EASTER
 ACRATH (Australian Catholic Religious Against Trafficking in Humans) says buying slavery-free chocolate at Easter gives you the opportunity to take a stand against human trafficking and slavery. To purchase slavery-free chocolate, look for FAIRTRADE, Rainforest Alliance or UTZ certified. These labels show the cocoa beans used in the chocolate's production have been sourced ethically from farmers who engage in good labour practices.

FROM THE VATICAN

Pope Francis has sharply denounced the culture of clericalism among priests in the Catholic church, calling it "one of the greatest deformations" that must be confronted by the global faith community and saying it helps "diminish and undervalue" the contributions that laypeople make. The pontiff has also strongly reaffirmed the right of laypeople to make decisions in their lives, saying that priests must trust that the Holy Spirit is working in them and that the Spirit "is not only the 'property' of the ecclesial hierarchy.

"It is good for us to remember that the Church is not an elite of priests, of consecrated people, of bishops -- but that everyone forms the Holy Faithful People of God," states Francis. "Clericalism brings about a homogenisation of the layperson, treating as 'mandatory' limits to his or her diverse initiatives and efforts, and I would dare to say, the audacity necessary to bring the Good News of the Gospel to all places of social and overall political activity," he continues.

"Clericalism, far from giving impulse to diverse contributions and proposals, turns off, little by little, the prophetic fire from which the entire Church is called to give testimony in the heart of its peoples," says Francis. "Clericalism forgets that the visibility and the sacramentality of the Church belongs to all the people of God and not only an elect or illuminated few."

"We trust in our people, in their memory and in their 'sense of smell,' we trust that the Holy Spirit works in and with them, and that this Spirit is not only the 'property' of the ecclesial hierarchy," he continues. "It is not the pastor who must say to the layperson that which they must do and say; he or she knows more and better than us," says the pope. "It is not for the pastor to decide what the faithful must say in their diverse settings."

"These are situations that clericalism cannot see, because it is more worried with dominating spaces than creating processes," he continues. "We must then recognise the layperson for their reality, for their identity. It is illogical, and even impossible, to think that we as pastors should have the monopoly on solutions for the many challenges that modern life presents to us," states Francis. "On the contrary, we must remain at the side of our people, accompanying them in their work and stimulating that capable imagination of responding to current problems. Our role, our joy, the joy of the pastor, is truly in the helping and the stimulating," he continues.

"Laypeople are a part of the Holy Faithful People of God and therefore are protagonists of the Church and the world; we are called to serve them, not them to serve us."

Ditosa in Mozambique is cared for by her grandmother after her parents died of AIDS-related illnesses. Featured in Project Compassion 2013, aged 12, Ditosa has now graduated from school with plans for university thanks to Caritas Australia's support. Please donate to Project Compassion 2018 and help young women like Ditosa to grow up with an education, confidence and hope, providing them with a just future.

'A Just Future' starts with your support. Boxes and envelopes are available on the tables as you leave the church; envelopes can be placed in the second collection basket. You can also phone 1800 024 413 or visit www.caritas.org.au/projectcompassion.

WOMEN'S SPIRITUALITY EVENING (FREE EVENT)

This inspiring event is on Thursday 22 March at St Joseph's Subiaco starting at 7.30pm. Guest speakers Abigail Davies (Barrister), Katie Lynch (Marist Educator) and Camilla Loveridge (Artist) will talk about their personal life experiences in the context of faith and their spiritual life. To allow time for reflection a music ensemble will play pieces selected by the speakers. Light refreshments will follow.

Former Irish President Mary McAleese delivered the opening address at 'Why Women Matter' held at the Jesuit Curia in Rome on 8 March for International Women's Day. "The event not only celebrated the wonderful work of Catholic women across the globe, but also created discussion and dialogue on the power and leadership structures of our Church today." To listen, visit voicesoffaith.org.

10TH ANNUAL ST JOSEPH CAMINO SALVADO PILGRIMAGES

19-26 August and 2-9 September

The Camino Salvado Pilgrimages follow the tradition of the famous Spanish Camino de Santiago and are conducted under the auspices of St Joseph's Parish, from Subiaco to the unique monastery town of New Norcia. Walking in the spirit of Dom Rosendo Salvado, a pioneering monk from Santiago in Spain who established the monastery in New Norcia, we follow his 1846 inspirational journey to connect with country and community. The pilgrimage is an opportunity to travel lightly, to walk free of the daily routines, to meet people, to make friends, to enjoy and celebrate God's creation. An opportunity too, in the travelling, the conversations and the silences to reflect on the journey of our lives. The pilgrimage attracts a variety of people of all ages who participate in this unique Australian Camino. For more information and registration visit www.caminosalvado.com or contact Graeme Wishart on 0418 742 701.
