NOVEMBER REFLECTION BY POPE FRANCIS

Sermon given by Pope Francis on All Souls Day when he visited a Roman cemetery

Today's liturgy is realistic, it is concrete. It is part of the three dimensions of life, dimensions that even children understand: the past, the future, the present. Today is a day of memory of the past, a day to remember those who walked before us, who also accompanied us, gave us life. Remember, remember. Memory is what makes a people strong because it feels rooted in a journey, rooted in a history, rooted in a people. Memory makes us understand that we are not alone, we are a people: a people that has history, that has passed, that has life. Memory of many who have shared a journey with us, and I am here (indicates the tombs around). It is not easy to remember. We, many times, we struggle to go back with the thought of what happened in my life, in my family, in my people ... but today is a day of memory, the memory that takes us to the roots: to my roots, to roots of my people.

And today is also a day of hope: the second reading made us see what awaits us. A new heaven, a new earth and the holy city of Jerusalem, new. Beautiful is the image she uses to make us understand what awaits us: "I saw her come down from heaven, come down from God, ready as a bride adorned for her husband" (cf. Rev 21: 2). Beauty awaits us ... Memory and hope, hope to meet, hope to reach where there is the Love that created us, where there is Love waiting for us: the love of Father.

And between memory and hope, there is the third dimension, that of the road we have to make and which we do. And how to make the road without making mistakes? What are the lights that will help me not to make a mistake? What is the "navigator" that God himself has given us, so as not to make mistakes? They are the Beatitudes that Jesus taught us in the Gospel.

These Beatitudes – meekness, poverty of spirit, justice, mercy, purity of heart – are the lights that accompany us so as not to make a mistake: this is our present. In this cemetery there are the three dimensions of life: memory, we can see it there (indicates the tombs); hope, we will celebrate it now in faith, not in vision; and the lights to guide us on our journey so as not to make a mistake, we have heard them in the Gospel: they are the Beatitudes.

Today we ask the Lord to give us the grace to never lose our memory, never to hide our memory – memory of a person, family memory, memory of the people -; and that he gives us the grace of hope, because hope is a gift of his: to know how to hope, to look at the horizon, not to remain closed in front of a wall. Always look at the horizon and hope.

And give us the grace to understand what are the lights that will accompany us on the road so as not to make mistakes, and so get to where they are waiting for us with so much love.

If you would like to support our Seniors, please consider helping on the day by serving or contributing sandwiches, savouries, slice or cake. Please call 9381 0400 or email lbrandon@stjosephssubiaco.org.au if you can assist.

PLENARY COUNCIL

The dream of Pope Francis is for our Catholic Church to become a synodal Church, "a discerning church where the church listens and responds to reality, rather than simply imposing old solutions that don't work. Francis realises that the church must become a listening and accompanying church if it is to help people." (Jesuit Fr Thomas Reese)

A big thank you to all who participated in our affirming listening and dialogue sessions at St Joseph's, practicing the 'new way of being Church' - the art of dialogue, a step towards our new listening, consultative and participatory Church. All are now encouraged to continue the process of being a 'voice' and contribute to the agenda of the Plenary Council by submitting individual submissions on the Plenary Council website: plenarycouncil.catholic.org.au/resources/have-your-say/. Written submissions can also be sent.

Disappointingly, our parish dialogue sessions had poor representation from our youth - who are the future of our Church. Similarly, few parishioners aged below 55 years registered for these sessions.

All are urged to prayerfully and reflectively have a conversation about the future of the Catholic Church in Australia. Consider the questions: What do you think God is asking of us in Australia at this time? What questions do you have about the future of the Church in Australia that you would like the Plenary Council to consider? and submit your responses on the Plenary Council website.

A further listening and dialogue session will be held on Monday 18 February 2019 at 6pm.

WE are the Church, be involved.

PRISON SUNDAY: TODAY (11 November)

You are encouraged to reach out to prisoners, their families, prison chaplains, victims of crime and those working in the prison system. There is much parishes can do to reach out and build bridges with prisoners and their families – by becoming a prison visitor; serving as a court volunteer; helping with family support post-release; or providing toiletry packs for released prisoners.
